Pen and paper

Pen and paper

I don't

An App- Samsung Notes

An app

I use excel and normal notes

Banking app (separating what's used for what into sub accounts)

Pen & Paper

I don't track my budget

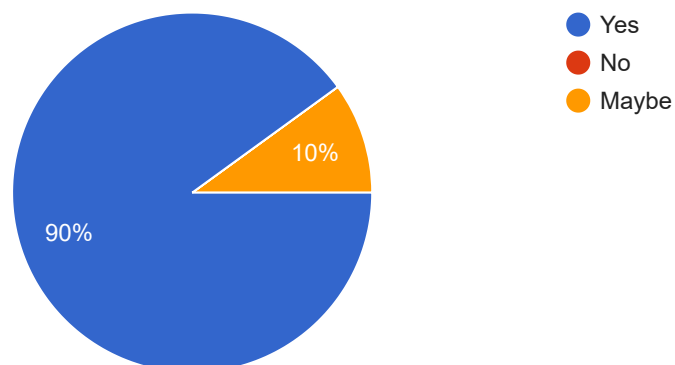

na who get money dey budget

Use express tracking apps or platforms

If I were to create a website specifically for tracking budgets, would you be interested in using it?

What features would you like to see on the website? For example, a clean user interface, secure login, customisable budget categories, the ability to track spending, or options to set or change budget allocations?

Clean user interface

Ability to track spending and customisable budget categories

Clean UI. Charts denoting projections, what-if analyses, auto-categorisation of purchases, automatic logging of spending (via open-source banking API's)

Clean U.I, ease of use, notifications about budgeting goals e.t.c

An intuitive user interface, tracking features

Clean user Interface would be of upmost importance

All

All of those features and also like a piggy bank feature that allows me to budget to achieve a certain financial goal like buying a shirt

All that you've mentioned

Easy interactive way of inputting variables to the software and then it being presented in graphical manners allowing for maximum interpretation of data.

all the above

Customisable budget categories and secure login

Secure login

Customisable budget categories

The ability to track spending

Ability to track spending

A clean user interface

Customisable budget

I'll like to see all features mentioned above.

Customizable budget categories

yes

Ease of use
